KING GEORGE V. REIGNS AS RULER OF BRITISH EMPIRE

DECLARED KING THIS AFTER-NOON BY THE CONSENT OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

RULE OF EDWARD VII. ENDED

King Edward Passed Away Shortly
Before Midnight on Friday—All London Mourns and Grief Is Expressed the World Over.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, May 7.—Telling the great hall in St. Paul Cathedral at minute intervals this morning, an office performed only at the death of a Sovereign and for the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, conveyed to the thousands of Londoners and subur-banites, the first intimation of the death of King Edward VII.

The great crowds coming to the city on the early trains proceeded toward Buckingham Palace and by nine o'clock an immense stream of people was slowly filling past the front of the building, with its drawn blinds, around to the west end of the palace to gaze upon the windows of the chamber where the body of the dead King was lying.

Over the palace the royal standard was half-masted, but except for this and the frequent coming and going of the officials and attendants
at the palace there was little outward evidence of the passing away of a great King.

Everywhere throughout the country, the flags have been placed at half-mast while church bells sounded the doleful news to the surrounding country.

The American feeling regarding the death of the King, was, in accordance with the cable instructions, expressed this morning to Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, by the American Ambassador Reid.

The first news first came announced to the Lord Mayor of London by a brief official notice signed by George, the Crown Prince, now King of England. This was followed by the official notice of the physicians that the end had come.

To the waiting crowds outside the palace the first official news came when they saw the members of the Royal family, who had been called out for the day to the palace, leave for their respective residences.

The palace was itself in darkness
except for the room where the remainder of the King lay. The Queen, his wife, he prostrated with grief.
All day Friday she was at his bedside and it was with difficulty that she was induced to leave the death chamber after his demise.

Besides the immediate family, the Duke of Fife and the Archbishop of Canterbury were in the death chamber. The King's brother, the Duke of Cornwall, was in the family vault at St. George's chapel, and the Duke of Norway will start for home
at once.

At four o'clock this afternoon
King George V. was proclaimed King of Great Britain and Ireland, the action being approved by the privy council at four o'clock. The privy council was called last night immediately on the news of the death of the King being made public.

It is thought that the coronation of the new King will not occur for eighteen months, following the custom of English sovereigns for several generations past. King George, however, for all practical purposes, is now ruler of England and all her colonies and possessions.

After being notified by the councillors that he had succeeded to the throne, King George delivered a brief address, announcing his determination to endeavor to maintain the high traditions of the British court and to fulfill to the best of his ability the great trust reposed in him.

Both houses of parliament assembled this afternoon in accordance with the ancient statute providing that they meet on demise of a sovereign. The session of the commons was purely formal and lasted only a few minutes.

In the Lords, Lord Lansdowne, Lord
High Chancellor, took the oath of al-ligiance to King George V. and the peerage present followed for the late monarch, of sixty-eight years of age,
one for each year of his age, was died
this afternoon at St. James Park.

SKETCH OF KING EDWARD'S LIFE

CAREER OF THE DEAD RULER OF GREAT BRITAIN

WAITED LONG FOR THRONE

Was Carefully Educated and Widely Traveled—Indiscretions as Prince of Wales Atoned for by Conduct in Later Years.

Edward VII., king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of all the British Dominions
beyond the Seas, emperor of India,
as his full royal title reads, was born in Buckingham palace, London, on November 9, 1841, and was the second child and first son of Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort Albert. He was christened Albert Edward, and at his very birth was given an imposing list of titles. He was at once created prince of Wales and by virtue of that dignity he became also knight of the garter. As heir apparent to the British throne he succeeded to the title of duke of Cornwall and its entrenchments, and as heir to the crown of Scotland he became great steward of Scotland, duke of Rothesay, earl of Carrick, baron of Renfrew and lord

King Edward VII.

of the Isles. On September 10, 1853, he was created earl of Dublin, this title being conferred on him and his heirs in perpetuity. Among the other titles and commands held by Edward were duke of Saxe-Coburg, colonel of the Tenth Hussars, colonel-in-chief of the Rifle brigade, field marshal of the British army and field marshal of the German army.

GEORGE V.

Born in London on June 3, 1865.
Entered naval service as cadet in 1877.

Commanded his first ship in 1889.
Became heir apparent on death of Duke Clarence in 1892.

Married Princess Victoria of Teck
on July 6, 1893.
Visited Canada in 1900 and met
Vice President Fairbanks.

Has six children: Edward Albert,
Albert Frederick, Victoria Alexandra, Henry William, George Edward and John Charles.

London, May 7.—George Frederick Ernest Albert, Prince of Wales, who now becomes King, is the second son of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, and was born at Marlborough house on June 3, 1865, seventeen months after the birth of his elder brother, the late Duke of Clarence.

He and his brother entered the navy together as cadets, and he spent two years on the Britannia. Then he started on a three-year voyage around the world, sailing on the Bacchante.

In 1892, when his brother died, he was chosen for the throne.

He is one of the Chicago board of trade, the New York produce exchange, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, the Baltimore chamber of commerce and the St. Louis Merchants' exchange. Mr. Link was born in Chicago in 1861 and received his
education in the public schools of the city. His home is at 826 Kenosaw
terrace.

Takes Immunity Oath.
Democratic Representative Michael
S. Link, indicted on the charge of perjury yesterday in connection with the Lorimer bribery charges, confessed to the grand jury today. This announcement was made in court today by State Attorney Wayman in requesting that the indictment against Link be quashed.

JUDGE TOOK CASE FROM JURY TODAY

Gives Verdict For Defendant in Damage Suit of Fox Against Omaha Railroad.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Eau Claire, Wis., May 7.—Judge
Welchman this morning took the case
from the jury and directed a verdict for the defendant in the $2,500 damage suit brought by Gary M. Fox against the Omaha road for the death of his father, Dennis A. Fox, a night watchman who was killed by a switch engine at a grade crossing in 1908.

Prince Traveled Much.
The prince became duke of Cornwall when his father took the throne
and soon thereafter started on a tour of the colonies. He opened the first parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia. In celebration of his safe return from the tour he was entertained by the London corporation at Buckingham palace on Dec. 5, 1901, on which occasion he delivered his well-known address to the House of Commons.

New King No Sportsman
His Indian trip was regarded as not a success from a political viewpoint.
In 1905 he visited Canada to attend
the celebration at Quebec, and on that occasion met Vice President Fairbanks.

The prince is less democratic than his father and does not have such an ardent love for sports. It has been predicted, therefore, that after his accession to the throne the court gayety, which was always a feature during Edward's reign, will be less marked.

Prince George came into the line of succession to the throne of England in 1892 by the death of his elder brother.

And so the consumer had none.

GRAND JURY PROBE WILL SPARE NOBODY

Inquiry Into Senatorial Bribery Scandal in Illinois Will Bring Out
All Particulars.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., May 7.—The special grand jury investigating the charges of bribery in the election of United States Senator Lorimer has already examined many witnesses. It is their intention to go to the bottom of the case and either clear the name of Senator Lorimer or return indictments against him. William H. Lake has been chosen foreman. He is one of Chicago's prominent commission men.

He is a member of the Chicago board
of trade, the New York produce exchange, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, the Baltimore chamber of commerce and the St. Louis Merchants' exchange. Mr. Lake was born in Chicago in 1861 and received his
education in the public schools of the
city. His home is at 826 Kenosaw
terrace.

Takes Immunity Oath.
Democratic Representative Michael

REPORT MEASURE AS IS NOW AMENDED

Senate Committee Accepts the Amendment Offered to Publicity Bill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., May 7.—The senate committee on privileges and elections today voted to report the campaign publicity bill as amended so as not to require the publication in advance of elections.

Witness Milwaukee Doubt? Alex.
Russell and Bert Van Houten took two automobile loads of Janesville followers of the boxing game to Milwaukee last evening. Among those who witnessed the Kelly-McGoey fight were: Thomas McKelvie, Fred Bilbourn, E. W. Miller, Herman Huges,
Thomas Abbott, and Ernest Meyer.
Jailed for Drunkenness? Thomas Day pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this morning and being unable to pay a fine and costs amounting to $1, went to jail for seven days.

FARMERS' MEETING COMPLETE SUCCESS

Eminent Orators Address Members
Of Farmers' Union and Society of Equity At St. Louis.

Secretary American Society of Equity.
Right, Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson. Lower left, Senator Owen, Oklahoma. Lower right, Senator R.
M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

St. Louis, May 7.—The annual convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union and the American Society of Equity in session here
this week was one of the most interesting ever held. Scarcely have many notables spoken in one convention.

President Taft, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Senator R. M. La Follette of Wisconsin, William J. Bryan, John Temple Graves, Samuel Gompers,

have sometimes marred the relations
between Germany and the great American republic. But even these persons are surprised at the effective
compliments which the Berlin press
is already showering upon Colonel Roosevelt and the official preparations
that are being made to give the distinguished visitor a magnificent reception.

C. S. Barrett of Union City, Cal., president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union presided.
The enthusiasm of S. D. Kump, national secretary and treasurer of the American Society of Equity, has been unbounded and he has worked night and day to make the convention a success.

UNCLE JOE CANNON IS SEVENTY-FOUR

Speaker Of The House Is Receiving Congratulations From Many Quarters At Washington Today.

Washington, D. C., May 7.—Speaker Cannon within sight of his 75th milestone today, and received many congratulations from the House members on both sides of the aisle. "Uncle Joe" first saw the light of day at Gallford, N. C., May 7, 1836. He has been in public life almost continuously for nearly half a century and declares he intends to "keep going"
to the end.

Baseball Game? The Janesville
"Cubs" baseball team will play the Detroit "Old Sox" at the Fair Grounds tomorrow afternoon. Abraham and Doran will officiate for the "Cubs."

BERLIN READY FOR "ROOSEVELT WEEK"

Elaborate Arrangements Are Being Made For Entertainment of Great American Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, May 7.—Elaborate arrangements are being rapidly carried out for the welcome here of Theodore Roosevelt the first of next week.
They are on truly a magnificent scale.

In addition to the royal audience, official visits, receptions and banquets
which have attended the former president's visits to other European countries there will be a number of events affording opportunity for brilliant spectacular effects.

The most reliable newspapers have freely expressed the opinion that Colonel Roosevelt's visit will mark a long step toward the further strengthening of the cordial relations between Germany and the United States. There have always been many influential Germans who have entertained real affection for the United States and who have deplored the little tariff quarrels and misunderstandings which

have sometimes marred the relations
between Germany and the great American republic. But even these
persons are surprised at the effective
compliments which the Berlin press
is already showering upon Colonel
Roosevelt and the official preparations
that are being made to give the distinguished visitor a magnificent reception.

BELOIT TEAM LOST THE COLLEGE DEBATE

College Orators Unsuccessful In Debating Their Side or Question Against Albion, Mich. Team.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, May 7.—The College Sophomores lost their debate last night in this city with the Albion Michigan sophomores. The question was "Resolved that Congress should appropriate the sum of $50,000,000 annually to improve inland waterways." The decision was unanimous against the Beloit boys who made a desperate effort and put up a good fight.

The Beloit team was composed of Harold Bruce, of Clinton, Wis., Don-son Knudsen and Theodore Chris-chills.

STOCKHOLM GREET ROOSEVELT'S PARTY

Prince William and American Minister Meet Teddy While Great Throngs Cheer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Stockholm, May 7.—The Roosevelts arrived here today and were received by Prince William, American Minister Graves, and others, and taken to the palace. An immense crowd cheered as the train drew in.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT ISSUE REQUISITIONS

New Jersey Executive Says Indicted
Meat Packers Are Not Fugitives
From Justice.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Trouton, N. J., May 7.—Gov. Fort today refused to issue requisitions for the indicted packers on the ground
they were not fugitives from justice and were they in the state when the alleged offense was committed.

APPLETON KNIGHTS WIN DRILL CONTEST

Take First Place by Narrow Margin
at Convention of Knights of Pythias at Fond du Lac.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Fond du Lac, Wis., May 7.—The Appleton Knights of Pythias were first place in the league drill here Friday night with a percentage of 98.78. Fond du Lac was second with 98.09, Wauwatua third with 94.95 and Neenah 4th with 89.57. The new officers of the league are: President, A. A. Wetzel of Appleton; secretary and treasurer,
Geo. Finch of Oshkosh. The next meeting and place for holding the meeting will be decided upon by the new officers.

MAY NOT CELEBRATE FOURTH IN BELOIT

Committee of Commercial Club of Line City Reports Unfavorably
In Regard to Celebration.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., May 7.—After considering the matter over the committee in charge of the plans for a celebration on the Fourth of July have recommended to the Commercial association that the enterprise be abandoned. There are few who care to get behind it to make it a success and the Commercial club expects that the celebration shall be a good one.

One of the rarest achievements of surgery, a Caesarian section, was successfully performed by Dr. D. R. Connell on Mrs. J. W. Newman of Third street, at the Beloit hospital. Both mother and babe are reported as doing nicely.

TO EXPLAIN 'NEW KIND OF MATTER

Prof. Bragg Is To Lecture in London
On Substance That Is Neither Liquid, Solid Nor Gas.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, May 7.—English scientists are looking forward with keen interest to a lecture to be given next week at the Royal Institution by Prof.
William B. Bragg of Adelaide University on the new form of matter of radiations from radium, which, according to Prof. Bragg, are neither solid, liquid nor gas, and yet are matter. The professor declares that the particles shot out incessantly by radio-active substances travel with a velocity of 10,000 miles a second and pass straight through any other substance they may encounter.

PREP FRATS ARE TO REFORM THEMSELVES

Grand Inter-Fraternity Council Has Begun Its Second Annual Convention in Detroit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Detroit, Mich., May 7.—The Grand Inter-Fraternity Council of the United States, which was organized a year ago at Schenectady, N. Y., began its second annual convention here today.
Delegates representing about fifty preparatory school organizations
throughout the country are in attendance. The organization is working to eliminate the objectionable features of preparatory school societies, in order to remove all cause for criticism.

NEW ENGLAND HAS PEACE CONFERENCE

Educators and Statesmen Who Favor International Arbitration Are Gathered At Hartford.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Hartford, Conn., May 7.—Statesmen, philanthropists, educators and others interested in the promotion of international peace and arbitration are gathering here for the three days
meeting of the New England Arbitration and Peace Congress. The meeting will be formally opened tomorrow
with a session at which Bishop Brewer of Connecticut will preside. On Tuesday the delegates will make a pilgrimage to New Britain, the home of Elihu Burritt, one of the pioneer advocates of the plan for the settlement of international disputes by arbitration.

Roosevelt's Message.
Stockholm, May 7.—Col. Roosevelt today issued a statement expressing his grief over the death of King Edward and his appreciation of the late King's good will toward the United States, and paying a tribute to his great ability as a statesman and his desire for peace.

TRIAL FOR THE BATHTUB CRIME

AT EAST ORANGE, N. J. SET FOR WEDNESDAY.

THREE WOMEN IMPLICATED

The Murder Of Mrs. Okey Wardlaw
Snead Last November Have Obtained Able Counsel To Defend Them

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Newark, N. J., May 7.—Interest in the mysterious death of Mrs. Okey Wardlaw Snead at East Orange, N. J., in November last has been revived by the near approach of the date set for the opening of the trial of Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw, Mrs. Caroline H. Martin and Mrs.
Sturtevant and Mrs. W. Snead, who are charged with the murder of the victim of the famous bathtub tragedy.
The case has been called for trial on Wednesday of next week and there is every indication that the case will be strongly fought and will go down in the annals of criminal history as one of the most puzzling and peculiar cases ever known in this country.

Mrs. Okey Snead was found dead in the bathtub of the house No. 89
West Fourteenth street, East Orange,
on November 20, 1909 and so peculiar were the circumstances surrounding her death that the authorities began an investigation to ascertain the true facts in the case. In the afternoon of November 20 some woman called up the police of East Orange, asking for the address of the coroner. When the woman was informed that the coroner was in New Jersey, she informed the police that a woman had committed suicide. Dr. H. M. Stim-mons, who was sent to the house and found the body of the young woman in the bathtub. The tub was full of water and the entire body of the woman was submerged. At first the physician did not suspect that there was anything wrong, especially as he found, pinned to the clothes of the woman, a note stating that she had committed suicide. Closer investigation convinced him, however, that the woman had been dead more than twenty-four hours. As the bathroom was the only one in the house it seemed strange that the body had not been found sooner. The explanations offered by the three women in the house did not satisfy the physician and upon his report a careful investigation was begun
by the police authorities.

It was ascertained that the victim of the tragedy and her aunt, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, had moved into the house on West Fourteenth street
last year. The "finding of the body"

WAGE WAR AGAINST STOUGHTON DRUNKS

Edgerton's New Justice of the Peace Making It Hot For Visiting Celebrators.

[Special to the Gazette.]
Edgerton, Wis., May 7.—With the recent city election Edgerton elected a justice of the peace who is a man of clean type and bearing the best character in the person of D. W. North. Mr. North is well versed in law and will administer justice in all cases. It is but a few days ago that he assumed office and the first case before him was a Stoughton drunk. He gave him the full penalty, $10 and costs, a total of $12.50 and five days in the county jail. With a strict enforcement of the law it is certain that Stoughton drunks will make themselves somewhat more scarce in Edgerton.

Services at the M. L. church Sunday morning at the usual hour. Subject, "Good Company."

Rev. J. A. Stubb of Stoughton gave an illustrated lecture here last night on the life of Paul the Apostle, which was largely attended.

Mrs. T. A. Perry has departed for the City of Mexico where she goes to bring back her little granddaughter, Martha Shaw Perry, who will make her home here with her grandparents in the future.

Mrs. R. J. Matross has gone to Hartford, Conn., on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Burr Scott.

John Paterson of Janesville has secured a position in the office of the Wilson laboratory.

The Edgerton baseball team played the Allston team Thursday afternoon. The score was 14 to 2 in favor of Edgerton.

The Edgerton "Huggers" team are practicing and will soon play again. They only lost one of the many games they played last year.

Wm. Miller has started a new house on Lord street.

Mrs. A. E. Steward left Saturday for a visit at Huntington, Ind., the home of her parents.

Thomas Perry has gone to St. Croix, Wis., where he has secured a position with a land agency.

L. K. Jessup is slowly recovering from a severe sickness.

The Methodist ladies are working hard to earn a new pipe organ which they hope to have installed before the conference meets here in June.

The old Edwards building will be sold to make room for the new bank building which the First National Bank intends to erect.

Next Sunday evening the Epworth League have charge of the services at the Methodist church. They have a song service, an address by Mr. McInnis, and installation of the officers of the Epworth League. Everyone is cordially invited.

Miss Ruth McIntosh was given a surprise party by her little friends who came to help her celebrate her eighth birthday. Refreshments were served.

James Joyce has purchased the bulls home on Rollin St. He intends to build a new home there this summer.

Mrs. Charles Langworthy has returned from Janesville where she has been visiting.

NO SECOND FIDDLE FOR CARNEGIE. IF PITTSBURGERS PREFER HANS WAGNER TO FOUNDERS' DAY EXERCISES NO $10,000,000 DONATION.

What Hans Wagner has done for Pittsburgh:
Broke the world's record throwing a baseball.

Led the National league in batting, stolen bases and single, double and triple hits.

In 74 games made 110 hits and scored 60 runs.

Holds the record for successive hits in a single game.

Premier batter of the National league.

Is still playing ball.

What Carnegie has done for Pittsburgh:
Gave $5,000,000 in pensions to old Carnegie employees.

Gave Allegheny, a part of Pittsburgh, $500,000 for library.

Founded the Carnegie library at Pittsburgh at a cost of $2,000,000.

Gave $1,750,000 more to library in 1899.

As a Christmas present increased the wages of 10,000 employees of the Carnegie steel mills in 1899.

Gave $20,000 to Pittsburgh observatory.

Gave $250,000 to unemployed of Pittsburgh during the panic of '33.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—When Founders' day exercises at the Carnegie Institute were scheduled to allow President Taft to see the Pittsburgh-Chicago baseball game, Andrew Carnegie drew the line. He does not say so in just those words, but appearances speak for themselves. He has permitted Pittsburgh to feel the weight of his displeasure. On being assured that Founders' day exercises scheduled for Monday afternoon had been brought forward into the morning in order that the baseball game be not interfered with, Mr. Carnegie frankly announced the closing of his purse to Pittsburgh.

Col. S. H. Church returned from New York, where he went to talk with Mr. Carnegie over the resumption of building the $10,000,000 technical school at Pittsburgh, and admits that he was told there would be no more money given now. Mr. Carnegie pointed out that he had already given Pittsburgh $10,000,000 and would now be back for a while. E. M. Higelow also returned from a visit made for the purpose of having Mr. Carnegie close a promise which he had made to give a farm worth $250,000 in the Allegheny valley for a boys' industrial school. Mr. Carnegie told Mr. Higelow with some feeling that he would not now give the property, but if Pittsburgh wanted to pay $300,000 for the property she could have it.

FATAL FIGHT ON COAST—OWEN MORAN AND TOMMY MCCARTHY POSE BEFORE THEIR LAST BATTLE.

Whether the death of Tommy McCarthy, who died as a result of a fractured skull after being knocked out by Owen Moran in Prison last week, will have the effect of stopping the Jeffries-Johnson battle is the question that is being asked by the public. The possibility of that striking battle has just now, the death of McCarthy has created a sentiment against the fight game by families the country over. Men who do not stop to consider that the accident, a fractured skull, be one that might befall any man in any line of work at any time, just as bull players are killed when hit by pitifully bulls. ## Quite So.

Sweet nothing, in the hands of a competent lawyer, may be transformed into very bitter and substantial something.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Natural Vagrants, All of Us.

There has never been a time when men did not wander from a desire for change, a desire to flee from the monotony of mere existence. There is a fever in the blood which drives men to wander, affecting rich and poor alike, and this is a factor which no legislation can ever entirely eliminate in dealing with the true vagrant class.

The Best Economy in Piano Buying

Let Others Buy the Cheap Pianos

For your instrument, choose one which will give you years of service after the inferior ones have outlived the little usefulness they ever may have had.

Of course, you will have to pay more for a good piano—but is it not economy to do so and assure yourself of permanent satisfaction?

Beware the lure of unreasonably low price. Rest your decision on the value offered and remember that the very cheap piano means cheap construction, inferior tone and only temporary usefulness.

Do not permit yourself to indulge in the extravagance of "saving" a few dollars now to take the chance of dissatisfaction after you have spent your money.

You can get an idea of what piano value means by inspecting our collection. You can buy an instrument here at a price as low as a good one can be sold for. Furthermore, you will find that we have graded our prices consistently with the relative worth of our pianos. Therefore you can make your selection to the very best advantage whatever sum you may wish to invest.

SKETCH OF KING
EDWARD'S LIFE

The prince received a most elaborate, broad and carefully planned education. At first he was under the charge of four private tutors, and subsequently his education was directed by Baron Stockmar and Charles Kingsley. In order to give him a taste of college life, he was sent for one session to the University of Edinburgh, for one year to Oxford and for four terms to Cambridge. During these years he acquired a wide general knowledge of the arts and sciences and became quite proficient in modern languages.

In 1869 the prince made a tour of the United States and Canada and the next year he joined the British army at Curragh camp, Ireland. In 1882 he set out on his travels again, this time visiting Jerusalem and other places of biblical interest. His companion on the trip was Dean Stanley of Westminster.

Edward's public life began in February, 1883, when, as heir to the throne, he took his seat in the house of lords. On March 10 of the same year he married Princess Alexandra, the eldest daughter of King Christian IX. of Denmark. Her beauty, grace and charming manners at once gave her a popularity in Great Britain that has continued unbroken throughout her life as princess and queen. In 1875-76 the prince made an extended tour through the Indian empire and was received everywhere with lavish and magnificent hospitality, the native rulers seeking to outdo one another in the gorgeousness of the entertainments provided for their emperor.

On the death of Queen Victoria, January 22, 1901, Edward succeeded to the throne. The coronation was set for June 26, 1902, and all preparations for the magnificent event had been completed when disquieting rumors of the king's ill health, which had been current for several days, were confirmed by the postponement of the ceremony. It was announced that the king was suffering from perityphilitis, and on June 24 he underwent an operation. After some weeks of the greatest anxiety he recovered, and the coronation took place August 9.

During the long years of his principled Edward's public duties consisted solely in the office of representing the royal family at all manner of public events, and he performed these duties well, but the deadly monotony of such a life was too much for the vigorous man, and he found relaxation in amusements that frequently gave rise to scandals and that gave the world a wrong impression of his real character. He was especially fond of the theater and among his boon companions for years were actors and actresses. Also he developed a great liking for Paris and often visited that gay capital incognito.

The Hygiene and Blarney (Lancaster) were public men, whatever their opinions might be, and he was equally courteous to all. At peculiar crises of public opinion his visits to Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Bismarck and other prominent members of the liberal party did much to counterbalance in the public mind Queen Victoria's preference for her Conservative ministers. It was said that Edward always inclined to the Nationalists in Irish politics, but constitutional restrictions prevented his showing his preferences in relation to the Edwardian Isle.

As a diplomat Edward was unexcelled among the monarchs of Europe. His influence was always thrown to with amused tolerance on the vagaries and extravagances of his nephew, the emperor of Germany, but occasionally that ruler exasperated him to such an extent that he could not the side of international peace where compatible with national honor, and his advice and example had a steady effect on all Europe. He looked forward from giving him some stern advice. Such admonition was not received by William in a submissive spirit, and once in a while there were sensational rumors that the peaceful relations between the two countries were about to be ruptured.

The development of the king's character in his later years was especially gratifying to the nation. In addition to the love of his people, which he had always had, he gained their admiration and respect. They had the utmost confidence in his good judgment, as was amply exemplified during the late crisis over the budget, and they were always sure he would do the right thing at the right time.

To Edward and Alexandra were born six children. The first, Prince Albert, duke of Clarence, died in 1892, aged twenty-eight years. The second, George Frederick Ernest Albert, born on June 3, 1895, succeeds to the throne. The other children are: Princess Louise Victoria, married to the duke of Fife; Princess Victoria Alexandra; Princess Maud Charlotte.

But all this, as has been said, was only his relaxation, and after coming to the throne his conduct always was so circumspect that not the most capricious critic could find any fault with it. Edward was always a liberal patron of art and science and manifested a lively interest in exhibitions, charitable institutions, the housing of the poor, agriculture and other matters that concerned the welfare of his subjects. He assisted in promoting the Royal College of Music, and the Imperial Institute was due to his suggestion. While prince of Wales he carefully abstained from participation in politics and from all action that could be construed into preference of one party over another. He cultivated the most friendly relations with

FORD Where Good Clothes Come From

The Sensation of Motordom

Before you buy see the car which has captured the country—the most interesting car in the world.

Two years ago almost nobody knew of this masterpiece of mechanism. Today orders for this season's delivery amount to $34,000,000.

Four factories, employing 4,000 men, are putting out 125 Overlands daily to meet the demands of immediate delivery—now they have tents stretched and hundreds of extra men are helping to meet the demand.

All this has resulted from thousands of buyers telling thousands of others to order an Overland car.

The only real automobile sold for $1,000—a 26 horsepower car, with a 102-inch wheel base.

40 horsepower car, with a 112-inch wheel base, for $1,250. And the prices include five lamps and magneto.

You will be amazed to see what the Overland gives for the money. We have cut our costs 20 per cent in the past year alone, through multiplied output and labor-saving machinery.

You will see a car of matchless simplicity. A car which a child can master. A car which a novice can drive a thousand miles and back without any trouble whatever.

You will see the pedal control. Push a pedal forward to go ahead and backward to reverse. Push another pedal forward to get on high speed. It is as simple as walking.

You will see a car so trouble-proof that many an owner has driven it thousands of miles without even cleaning a spark plug.

The Overland is the season's sensation. Around it is centered a pretty large share of the automobile demand of the country.

In the face of fierce rivalry—by the sheer force of merit—it has attained, in two years, the topmost place in motordom.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

The Laymen's Missionary convention, in session in Chicago this week, was, in many respects, the most notable gathering of men ever held in this or any other country, and results should be far-reaching in influence. This convention was the culmination of many smaller conventions held in almost every state in the union during the past two years. It was attended by five thousand delegates and a liberal sprinkling of bishops and clergymen representing many denominations and creeds, but all united in the sentiment, "the evangelization of the world in this generation, the only generation we can reach."

A chart displayed on the stage of the theater where the convention was held gave some interesting statistics concerning the twenty-three protestant denominations in Chicago with a membership of 268,000, and 854 church buildings.

These churches spent last year something more than $3,000,000 for running expenses, and contributed to missionary and educational work in America $717,000, and $164,000 for foreign missions.

This means that Chicago, with a population of something over 2,000,000 is represented by a protestant church membership of about ten per cent divided among twenty-three denominations, many of them weak and struggling for existence.

In this connection it is interesting to note that protestant sects throughout the land increased from 145 in 1890, to 186 in 1906, with a membership of about 2,000,000. When the fact is considered that the Roman Catholic church presents a solid front with a membership in this country of more than 12,000,000, it is not surprising that the Chicago Episcopal bishop deplored the lack of harmony and weakness of over-organization, in addressing the convention.

Someone made the startling statement, not long ago, that if half the churches in America were burned, and their supporters compelled to seek refuge in other denominations, it would be a blessing to the cause and no one would be discriminated, for church accommodation would be ample, and the strength of new united effort would soon be felt as a power for good.

when these great civilizing enterprises are in the hands of Christian men good results will, speedily follow.

The American Board of Foreign Missions, calls this laymen's movement "the twentieth century crusade," "beginning in Buffalo the middle of October and ended in Chicago, early in May. Mountain 73 other cities in the United States were besieged by the 'crusaders,' Christian business men of all denominations whose object was to awaken a deeper interest in missions and stimulate to larger giving.

"At one church in Portland, Maine, increasing its annual contribution eight-fold. But the south, west, and Pacific coast went fairly wild with enthusiasm. Oklahoma City which 20 years ago was nothing but a prairie, voted $65,000 to foreign missions. Boise, Idaho, marshaled 1,200 delegates. All shops were closed, men marched in a body to the banquet hall two miles away, judges of the supreme court went in special autos, and the governor of the state and other prominent officials presided at the meetings. In Colorado Springs seven business men took a journey of 20 hours each way to attend the convention.

"Theater buildings and top floors of great department stores were often utilized, because church edifices were too small, and yet hundreds were turned away. A deep religious fervor was everywhere manifest. Prayer was realized as a new power. One southern city reported a revival beyond anything ever experienced there. Churches were filled to a higher level and individuals caught a vision of what world-conquest for Christ really means."

The movement will be effective because its object is to teach people a better way to live. The religions of the old world have stood the test of time for centuries and scores of generations have lived and died loyal to the faith which to them is sacred. The Y. M. C. A. mission in China and Japan are told that the religion of these nations satisfies the people but that they want a higher standard of morality to save their young men from dissipation which unites them for work and positions of trust and responsibility, and so they are encouraged to turn morality, but warned not to interfere with the church.

The experience of Senator Fairchild and ex-President Roosevelt in Rome was due to the zeal of the Methodist church in efforts to convert members of the Roman church to the protestant faith. Misdirected zeal and waste of energy. The man who would start out on the same kind of a mission in this country would soon discover that he had mistaken his calling.

A church crowd is largely a matter of inheritance. In this Christian land the bright light is divided among 180 sects, every last one of them zealous to perpetuate the religion of the fathers. In the old world these creeds are national in scope and regarded more sacred because hoary with age. They may all be wrong, but more people have died in the faith of these old creeds than are living today.

The evangelizing of the world means everything but converting it to the protestant faith. It means dispelling superstition and ignorance and letting into these benighted lands the sunlight of Christian civilization with a warm touch of humanity so tangible and helpful that the brother suffering in darkness may realize that he is a part of the great common brotherhood.

America is the most promising missionary soil under the sun. The people of every nation flock to our shores in multitudes every year. If they can not be civilized and Christianized under these environments it is the fault of the Christian church of every creed. It is safe to assume that the home field will not be neglected in the great laymen's missionary movement.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
BY PAUL MASON.
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

I detest the man who poses, who in every act discloses his conviction that he is bigger than the biggest star that shines; for the real big man is modest, and the faker's bluff of sand, and you'll never see a posing gent who's strictly genuine. I have watched the modern lion with admirers round him sighs, and I longed to swing him gently with a length of garden hose, as he glared at ally ladies through his oriental glasses, while his hair was dangling round him till it nearly reached his toes. I have heard a genius stammer till he gave me katzenjammer, and he made his speech eccentric as an advertising scheme; and I've heard about another who insisted that he'd smother if he were a bat—so, indeed he went round, as in a dream. I can't imagine John H. Milton (the whose name John H. Milton fixed his name upon the ages) posing like a Lord of Avon try an audience to speech by reciting his own verses and his dramas; it's a virtue quite domestic, but it's worth our cultivation, whether great or half-way great; whether we are clerks or writers, richmen or seers or clergymen; and the man who always poses may be written down a snide.

Already the usual cry is going up at many places that the census enumerators failed to get all the people listed. And perhaps Durand will be forced to fall back on this old excuse, in case the local committees to come up to the figures expected.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

"My Brother's Keeper."

It seems to be considered all right for the rich to play golf and tennis or go riding in an automobile on Sunday, but just as soon as the poor fellow who has to work in the factory all the time in the week that he has for pleasure or recreation the autist, the golf and tennis players and their sympathizers want to summon the police.—Now Britain Herald.

German Spirit.

When the social democratic party of Germany, last September, decided to institute a boycott of spirits as a protest against the new government taxation, no one could have believed that the outcome would be such a tremendous success. It is proved, unfortunately, however, that in the five months of the fiscal year affected by the boycott, beginning in October, the consumption of "the ardent" dropped over 31 per cent.—Madison Democrat.

A Misrepresented District.

House insurgents, several of whom are from Wisconsin and one of whom is from the first district, have practically throttled the Taft legislative program by their demand that the house conference on the administration commerce bill be elected by the house at large. It will be so easy for them to unite with the democrats in the naming of these conferees and then a deadlock is certain. That will prevent the Taft administration from keeping its pledges and discredit it before the country. And that is what the insurgents want most of all. If there was ever treason to the republican party, it is being bred in Washington today. And Taft—giving a magnificent vote to President Taft and his platform which called for this very legislation which is being so ruthlessly choked—is represented by one of the chief enemies of the administration.—Beloit Free Press.

Thought For Y. M. C. A.

Wisconsin is represented in the Orient by Dr. Amos Parker Wilder, American Consul General at Shanghai, China. Dr. Wilder before going to the far eastern country was editor of the Wisconsin State Journal at Madison, coming to Wisconsin several years ago from the east. A Chinese exchange gives the following excerpts from an address he gave at the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. at Shanghai in which so much good advice is given to the American boy as well as his little Chinese brother, parts are copied. The occasion was a most important one and Dr. Wilder's address made a profound impression.

"The principal address was made by Dr. Amos P. Wilder and in the course of it he said that Chinese parents should be glad to have their boys educated in the Y. M. C. A.; the best investment they can make is to build up the institution and to encourage their sons to enter its various departments. A man may have wealth and fame but if his boys are dissipated young men, his heart will be heavy. Nothing interests a man so much as the welfare of his sons, but he is always anxious that his son should. Men often talk recklessly about their own beliefs and theories of life, but they refuse these by their pathetic eagerness that their boys should walk the narrow path of sobriety, integrity and honour, and they wish their boys brought under good influences. I have boys of my own; there is no service that so touches a parent as to have some one take an interest in his children.

In every community, as in every life there is a struggle between two forces—one set pulling men up, the other down. The latter forces are so constant and so successful that we sometimes get discouraged and say "It isn't any use trying to be good" and "you can't make human nature over"—"human nature" by inference preferring to be bad. To the casual onlooker the forces for good often look contemptibly weak, while the evil—entrenched in the constant weakness of men—seems sturdy and irresistible. But they overlook the power of an idea if it is a true idea; they forget that if a thing is true, however popular, attractive, successful it may be, it has in it seeds of decay; they have not read history. "In every city—Shanghai included—there are forces for good and forces for evil, and you and I are the resultants, as these forces play upon us. The Y. M. C. A. is a strong force for good; it is on the right side of things and is playing a large part not only here but in many cities of the earth. It is a protest against the bad; it is an appeal to be good. It is a reminder that there is a earnest life in which men struggle and resist, and to a greater or less extent attain. Men let go of themselves and try to convince themselves that life is a gamboling and isn't worth while, but this institution stands with its athletics, cheerful social life and religious exorcism, as an unobtrusive reminder that there is a contingent of young men of every race who will not let the ideal of something better. It is altogether probable that influences from this place are felt in the life of many a young Chinese who comes here; he is persuaded or forced to see that Pouchow Road is not the haunt of a young man who would make the most of himself. He must choose and in the Y. M. C. A. the claims of the better way are suggested to him.

Ideals govern, but the ideal must be set up in the man and in the community before the crisis comes. When there is a riot in the street, it is too late to teach a lesson to authority. Less disciplined nations have often wondered at the seeming street traffic of London, which moves and halts as an unknown policeman lifts and lowers his hand. But in the act is embodied the teachings of centuries in every school and every fire-side; that humble official embodies the power of the Empire and the millions instinctively defer to it as happily as to some supreme call to duty that might involve life or death. So the ideals set up in a young man determine what shall be his conduct when under test. For 10 years in Shanghai the Y. M. C. A. has declared for a strong boy, a well schooled mind and a life of service to God and man. It is the foreigner that is taught here. The foreigner has brought some good things to China but none more useful than this ideal of young manhood that is so attractive to the mass of your fellows. It will more and more make itself felt in the Empire.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

CHOOSE YOUR EMPLOYER.

Be careful how you select the man for whom you work. Why not?

If your employer takes pains in selecting you as his employee your interest in yourself is greater than his interest in you.

If he runs his business on bad principles you are a participant with him in those bad principles.

And if he has loose morals personally sooner or later, if you stay with him, you will lower your morals to his plane.

Young people do not appreciate these facts as they should.

The moral bias in the conduct of a business and the personal influence of the head of the business are all important in their effect on the character of those employed in that business.

That employee is fortunate who takes a position with an employer whose business methods are correct and whose private life is above reproach.

If the employee discovers later on that the manager is other than this he should resign. Unfortunately, however, the employee usually makes his discovery too late and goes through life morally warped by the bad example.

Marshall Field was a great merchant who had correct principles of business. It is said of him that he trained more young men to be successful merchants than any other American business man. His assistants looked up to Mr. Field as a model.

John Wanamaker is another instance of the merchant prince who has succeeded along right lines. His forceful character and personal ideals permeate every department of his great stores.

The Personality of the Employer is a large factor.

Consider the influence in the industrial world of such men as Thomas A. Edison and George Westinghouse and the Studebakers.

High grade men at the front produce high grade men in the ranks.

Parents and guardians who place young people who do not know these things in the employ of the wrong sort of men are culpable.

Young man or young woman, whatever line of endeavor you select as your life work, be very careful in your choice of an employer.

WOMAN PREACHER AS FRIEND OF SALOON

Mrs. J. R. Rice, Evangelist, Advocates Liquor Traffic in Her Open Air Addresses.

During the past few days Janesville has been entertaining a woman preacher, who, strange to relate, preaches the teachings of Christianity as laid down by the Bible and almost in the same breath advocates the drinking of saloons and deprecates the work of her sisters of the W. C. T. U. who would abolish the liquor traffic forever from the face of the globe.

Of medium height, with a pleasing face, simply clothed and with pleasant smile and winning words, Mrs. J. R. Rice, woman evangelist and saloon advocate, travels through the country preaching on street corners and in halls and even churches when invited, the doctrine of Christianity and at the same time advocating the existence of saloons rather than their abolishment.

"I advocate the existence of saloons," she said this afternoon, "because I have found in work among the cities of the country, particularly in what are called dry territories, that prohibition does not prohibit and that more drunkenness exists in those dry areas than in states where county option and where the saloons do. I am not paid by any brewers, liquor interests or any person connected with these classes for my work. I speak as I do because I seek to benefit mankind."

"I have preached since I was 11 years of age. I have been actively engaged in the work of street preaching since I was 13 and have spoken almost every night of my life since I was fifteen. I was formerly known as the Child Preacher and as such will be known in New York city, my work today. I have held permits to preach on Broadway from four Mayors and have also toured every state in the union, in almost every state in the union."

"I do not believe in the use of liquor, hence my attitude towards the saloons. I feel that places where liquor is sold should be carefully governed, that there should be no eating there, no treating there and no music there. I am a member of the Christian church of Arkansas and have been commissioned by them to preach. Sometimes I speak in halls, opera houses and churches, but more often in the open air on the street."

"I stay in a city as long as I think I can do good there. I live by the contributions I receive which are given at the conclusion of my meetings. Sometimes these are small, sometimes they are large enough to meet all demands. It is not a lucrative work, but I believe I am doing good and continue to preach, traveling from city to city."

"I speak in halls when I have the opportunity. I think I help the men confined there, many due to the use of liquor and they listen to me and believe in me and what I teach. I hope to be able to continue this work for many years. I am but thirty now and have done much work in the fifteen years I have been actively engaged. New York is my home and I have a family of five children there. In that city I do saloon work and street preaching entirely."

Mrs. Rice speaks again in Janesville tonight. On Monday she leaves for other fields. She appears to be enthusiastic in her work, seems to believe that what she says about prohibition that does not prohibit is true and her talks are most interesting.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN HAD LADIES' NIGHT

Plates Were Laid For 125 At Banquet Given by Brotherhood Last Evening—Dr. Laughlin Toastmaster.

Members of the Presbyterian Brotherhood and their ladies, numbering 125 in all, enjoyed the annual Ladies' Night banquet at the church parlors last evening. The tempting repast was served in three courses and Rev. J. W. Laughlin presided over the enjoyable program which followed. A song by a double quartet was followed by a reading, "Sally Ann's Experience," by Mrs. Oscar Athion. Fred Holt told about "What the Church Can Do For Young Men," and J. G. Rexford responded to the topic "How Our Church May Be Made More Beautiful." Mrs. L. E. Wortendyke enthused every hearer with a poem on "Fishing." A yandeville novelty called "The Mule Box" was put on by Andrew J. Gibbons and company and scored a hit. The entertainment concluded with some more enjoyable songs by the double quartet.

EXPRESS HOPES FOR A SPEEDY RECOVERY

Reports From Chicago Are to the Effect That A. G. Metzinger Is on Road to Health.

Great mystery still surrounds the manner in which Arthur G. Metzinger of this city was injured in the wreck of a stock train in the Chicago yards Wednesday morning. According to reports, the road has not given out any particulars regarding the wreck and Mr. Metzinger has not recovered enough to tell his story. He has been moved from St. Luke's hospital where he received complete consciousness yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. So far as can be learned, he has sustained no fractured bones but his injuries were confined to a severe concussion of the brain. Mrs. Marshall, who has been in Chicago since Wednesday afternoon, returned last night and brought the encouraging report that hopes are expressed for her nephew's recovery. Mr. Marshall is expected home this evening and will probably bring some additional particulars with regard to the wreck.

Estella Davenport Was "Persona Non Grata" to Police—Ex't Under Suspended Sentence.

"Ah's from Milwaukee and if ah can't go out 'bout here" plucked in this year old town the "hot time Ah gets back to Martin street," said Estella Davenport, a much "too numerous" colored woman, hated before Judge Phipps in municipal court this morning on some charge or other. Estella made herself too conspicuous on the public streets and in the alleys last evening. She was threatened with arrest and was suspended until 1 p. m. to permit her to get back to the dear old Cream City.

HORSEMEN PLANNING FOR MANY MATINEES

Track at Fair Grounds Is Being Put in Shape For Work This Coming Summer.

Despite the fact that Janesville has no county fair to attract horsemen it is probable that a series of matinee races, similar to those held during the winter on the ice track, will be held during the coming summer months at the fair grounds. The local horsemen interested in the matter have raised a fund to put the track in shape for speed contests and have already begun work of getting it into shape. It has been thought that when completed it will be fairly fast. Additional interest is being found this year in the two-year-old class owing to the fact that at Libertyville, Elkhorn and Monroe race meets purses have been offered for half mile races for two-year-olds. This has not been done for several years past and will create considerable interest in this class among local fanciers of fast horses. Two Janesville horses will be prepared for the season's work here this summer. Charley Howe, owned by Charles Schaller and brief, John L. Fisher, speedily call. Holt, the trainer, will make Janesville his headquarters and it is thought that Joe Bartlett of Clinton and Bridges of Racine, will also bring their strings here for training when the track is in shape for use. It is understood that automobile billiards will be invited to contribute to the fund for maintaining the track in good shape but that they will not be allowed to use it except after four-thirty in the afternoon, when the track's training is over. The track will also show the speed expected will be started in several races this summer on adjacent tracks. There has been some talk about a joint matinee with the local horsemen on the local track and it is possible that such a meet can be arranged for during the summer Saturday half holidays. The local horsemen with pieces driven with hobbles are much interested in the ending of the turf congress which has decreed that after fifteen-fourteen no horses can be driven with hobbles. This year no two-year-olds to be raced using hobbles, next year no three-year-olds and the following no four-year-olds so that by 1914 hobbles at a race meet will be a scarcity. The drivers claim that a once driven with hobbles does not really bring forth the enthusiasm and interest that a natural pacer does and while the time may be a trifle slower it is actually better and faster so that when they are abandoned entirely their absence will not be noted.

RED BRICK FACTORY TO START ON MONDAY

AMEND ANSWER IN LIBEL SUIT TODAY

Judge Wickham Acts Favorably on Petition of Defendant in Eckern-Tweane Case.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Eckern, Wis., May 7.—In circuit court, Judge Wickham today gave decision on the motion of the defendant in the case of Eckern against Tweane for perjury to amend the answer in two particulars. First, for pleading in mitigation all damages for certain prosecution alleged to have been made by Eckern. Second, pleading to the courts claims for alleged libel for Eckern. The court granted the motion as to the first particular but denied the motion as to the second on the ground that such claims for libel were not pleadable in this action.

The question then arose as to what title he should be given. It was finally decided that of all royal dukes, none that of duke of York was most fitting for an heir apparent, since it dated from the time of Edward III, and had always been allotted to the second son of the sovereign until Queen Victoria broke the custom by crowning her second son duke of Edinburgh. So Prince George, as heir apparent became duke of York, earl of Inverness, and Baron Killickey. On the accession of his father to the throne in 1901 he became prince of Wales, duke of Cornwall and York, and duke of Rothesay in Scotland.

Find Ready Response to the Subscription Sale of Seats for the Opening of the Myers Theatre in September.

Janesville people are interested in the proposed renovation and reopening of the Myers theatre as evidenced by the results of the committee of Industrial and Commercial club work yesterday in securing signatures to the subscription sent out. The reopening and other renovations planned by the Myers theatre will cost two thousand dollars and the sale of the seats for the opening attraction, the middle of September, at two and a half dollars a seat is meeting with ready response. A good opera house is an advertisement to the city and will bring a better class of attractions as well as outside theatre-goers.

TOMORROW SACRED TO GOOD MOTHERS

Homage to the "Best Friends of Men" Will Be Nation Wide—Origin of the Movement.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., May 7.—The governors of nearly all the states of the union and the mayors of many of the chief cities of the country have issued proclamations requesting a general observance of "Mother's Day" tomorrow, when homage shall be paid to the mothers whose lives have been full of denial and self-sacrifice for their sons and daughters. Starting in 1908, the idea being that of a Philadelphia woman, Miss Anna Jarvis, the movement has grown with remarkable rapidity, until this year its observance will be nationwide, and hope is expressed that it will soon become an international festival date, observed by Christians the world over and possibly by Moslems and heathen—for it is the one subject on which all mankind can unite in common reverence.

She made quite a hit with the Parisiennes and Paris made quite a hit with her. She played at the Theatre Marigny in the Champs Elysees. "I had never sung to a French audience before," she said afterward, "and I just wanted to see how I could get on with the parley voo." The two stars were Vera Michelena, to sing before people in a language that most of them do not understand. But I helped them to understand by pointing more."

"How did you like Paris, Miss Michelena?" she was asked. "Oh, I just love it—I could live there," she replied.

While in Paris Miss Michelena made a close study of the Apache dance, which was quite the rage over there, intending to present the same in this country, but strange to say, when she came back after a few weeks in vaudeville, she was engaged by Mr. Singer for "The Flirting Princess" and cast for the Vaudeville dance, just the opposite of the Apache dance, which is rendered by Mr. Joe C. Smith and Adele Rowland in the same production.

FOR the mutual benefit of reader and advertiser we have concentrated on this page a considerable volume of advertising that bears directly on the subject of home building. It would be very interesting to know how many of the Gazette's readers are thinking about this subject of planning for it in the future. Beyond a doubt there are many who are actually building at the present time, and many more who will build during the summer. For that reason we believe that the advertising on this page will be of special value to them, telling as it does where you can get thoroughly reliable articles and workmanship necessary to the building of a home.

The strike situation does not deter us from fulfilling our contracts or figuring on new work.

Clean Reliable Economical

Install a Peck-Williamson Under Floor Furnace in your home. It will let no dust, dirt or coal gas escape; it will give steady even heat with little attention; you can cut your coal bill about one half every winter of what it takes to run an ordinary furnace, and save enough money in a few winters to pay for your new furnace. It burns the coal gas which other furnaces allow to escape up the chimney. It gives as good heat with cheap coal as with expensive.

Get a Peck-Williamson and save money. You will always be glad you got it.

CENTER OF MILK STRIKE IN BOSTON.

Stanley H. Abbott, President of the Milk Producers' Association.

Boston, Mass.—The milk strike in Boston, in which the producers are holding back an average of 27,000 cans of milk per day, is most serious. The effect was not at once felt, but as the week passes the situation hourly becomes more serious. Milk is being rushed in from outside sources in an effort to supply the demand.

Stanley H. Abbott, president of the Milk Producers' Association, is the center of this fight on the part of the producers to maintain winter prices on milk throughout the summer months. The consumers refuse to pay this amount and the milk is being withheld in a strike which affects seriously practically every person in the city.

COME AND SEE The FREE Sewing Machine

Spend a most delightful half hour in our store, examining this wonderful sewing machine.

The Free is as "different" from every other sewing machine as your wash machine is different from your wash board, and simply because it is "superior."

Mr. William C. Free, president of the Free Sewing Machine Co. spent the best years of his life laboring to produce in The FREE Sewing Machine, a machine which would possess all the good points of every other machine, which would eliminate all the bad points of every other machine, and which would possess some 15 special improvements.

He Succeeded!

Here are a few of the improvements which will arouse your enthusiasm:

- The "Rotoscillo" Movement, Mr. Free's Invention.
- The Eight Sets of Ball-Bearings.
- The Beautiful French Leg Design, which does not show dust.
- The Automatic Shuttle Ejector.
- The Automatic Locking Drawers.
- The Rotary Spool Pin, which never breaks a thread.
- The Automatic Tension Release, which never breaks a needle.
- The Needle which can't be put in wrong.
- The Improved Head Latch.

The FREE Sewing Machine is Insured!

For five years against Breakage, Wear, Fire, Tornado, Lightning and Water. This means that if from any such cause any part, (a needle, belt, attachment, etc.,) or all the machine is destroyed it will be replaced free to you.

The Free Sewing Machine Company is the only company which has enough faith in their machine to dare "insure" it.

Attachments, which go with The FREE are the best and do beautiful work.

Our terms are liberal, $1 a week buys it.

WORLD'S JOG FOR THE COMING WEEK

Actors' Fund Fair, Polish Celebration, Battleship Launching, and Other Events in Prospect.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., May 7.—President Taft will go to New York to attend the opening of the great Actors' Fund fair in that city Monday afternoon. In commemoration of the occasion the president will be given a handsome gold medal. William H. Crane, the dean of American actors, will make the presentation speech.

The three million Poles who have chosen the United States for their adoptive country are looking forward with eagerness to the celebration to be held in Washington on Wednesday, when statues of Generals Thaddeus Kosciuszko and Czarimir Pulaski are to be unveiled. The monument of Pulaski has been erected by the federal government, as a token of the appreciation which is felt for his services under General Washington, while the companion statue is a gift to the people of the United States from the Polish National Alliance. The unveiling of the memorials will be made the occasion for impressive ceremonies in which President Taft, the secretary of war, and other notables will take part.

If his other engagements permit, President Taft will probably take another hurried trip to New York to attend the launching of the battleship "Florida" at the Brooklyn navy yard Thursday. The "Florida" is one of the super-Dreadnoughts of the navy and will have a displacement of 21,000 tons. She is the first big ship built in a government yard since the 16,000-ton "Connecticut" was turned out at Brooklyn.

Important court cases scheduled for the week include the trial of the Wardlaw sisters at Newark, indicted for murder in connection with the death of Oscar M. Shand, who was found dead in a bathtub in East Orange, N. J., last November. Tuesday is the date set for the trial to begin in New York of Charles H. Holbe, former secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, and five other former employees of the company, on charges of conspiracy in connection with underweighting of sugar shipments. At Cairo, Ill., the trial is to be held of twelve men indicted for participating in the attack on the jail there last February, during which one man in the mob was killed and several injured by the sheriff's special deputies.

Former President Roosevelt will reach another stage of his European tour Monday night when he arrives in Berlin for a stay of one week. During the first three days he will be the guest of the American ambassador and during the latter half of the week he will be entertained by the emperor at the palace. On Thursday he will deliver a lecture upon an historical topic before the University of Berlin.

Other events that will figure more or less prominently in the news of the week will be the meeting of the Southern Baptist convention in Baltimore; the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Cincinnati; the assembling of the Louisiana legislature in regular biennial session, a two days' meeting of the National Federation of Religious Liberals in Philadelphia, the annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association in Mobile, the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in Detroit, and a big celebration at the University of California in honor of the institution's golden jubilee.

MENOMINEE ACT IS DECIDED FAILURE

Indians Have Lost $700,000 by the Measure Passed by La Follette.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, May 7.—Samuel J. Carter, the chief of the eighth field division, who was directed by the secretary of the interior to make an investigation of the logging and lumbering business conducted on the Menominee Indian reservation since the passage of the act of June 28, 1906, and to ascertain the cause of the financial loss to the Indians, resulting from such operations, after carefully considering all the operations of logging, milling, improvements, manufacturing and selling of the lumber, states his conclusion as follows:

"The act of June 28, 1906, was a failure and did not accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted, and the only benefit that might be said to have been obtained from the passage of said act was the practical demonstration that the business committee of the Menominee Indian tribe, when permitted in a large measure to handle their own affairs, proved themselves incompetent and guilty of entering into fraudulent contracts with themselves."

"The act of March 28, 1908, commonly known as the La Follette act, was a vicious piece of legislation, and has resulted in a loss to the Indians up to and including Oct. 31, 1909, of over $700,000 and if operations are continued under said act without the same being amended, the balance of the tribal funds of the Menominee tribe, as well as the stumpage on their reservation, is in grave danger of being a total loss.

"This act should be repealed if the rich heritage of the Menominee Indians is to be held for their benefit, and this act has resulted in compelling the Indians of the Menominee reservation, as well as the citizens of the state of Wisconsin who are competent from a business training to pass judgment, that the bureau of forestry has shown itself to be incompetent to cut and manufacture this timber at a profit to the Indians or with credit to itself; and it is yet to be proved and determined that the government, through any of its departments, can manufacture and sell timber or any other merchandise at a profit, and if it is the desire of the government to demonstrate that it can do so, it should do it at the expense of all the people and not of those ignorant, helpless Indians, who are the wards of the government and should be protected."

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

DOES IT EVER occur to you that fault-finding is sometimes a very good thing?

And the failure to find fault sometimes cruel? A young girl whom I know was discharged recently from her position as stenographer.

"He said he only did it because he was going to cut down the office force," she explained, "and I guess that's really the truth, for all the time I was there he almost never found any fault with me."

Later I happened to meet the young woman's ex-employer, with whom I am also acquainted.

The talk drifted around to the girl he had just discharged.

"You liked her work?" I asked.

"Why, no. If I did, why should I have let her go?"

"She said that was because you had to cut down the office force."

He grinned rather sheepishly. "Oh, that was what I told her to make it easier for her."

(What a queer conception of "making things easy" some people have.)

"I let her go because she was an inefficient stenographer. Two or three times she made mistakes in addressing envelopes, and things of that sort, that might have made her trouble for me. Didn't happen to, but it might have. I couldn't risk it any longer."

"What did she say when you called her down for things?"

"Well, I don't know as I ever did much, if any. I don't like to do that sort of thing, you know. It makes me feel uncomfortable."

That's the failure to find fault that's cruel.

If your maid makes mistakes or is careless in any way, do you pleasantly call her attention to her faults and ask her to try to do better, or do you just stand there as long as you can, and then rise in your wrath and discharge her?

If you were a maid or a stenographer or an employee of any sort, in which of these ways would you like to be treated?

I know a teacher who was told by the superintendent just after she was asked to hand in her resignation exactly why she had been unsatisfactory.

It was the first time she had received any criticism to speak of.

It took her some time to get another school. You know it isn't very easy, when you have been asked to hand in your resignation, to find another position right away.

During this time she passed through a period of discouragement and depression in which she told me afterwards, she almost made up her mind twice that there wasn't any place for her anywhere in the world.

When she finally did get a chance to try again she bulled on the criticism she had received, and today she is one of the most successful teachers in the state.

And all the suffering she went through might have been avoided if that superintendent and school committee had been kind enough to find fault with her in the beginning, instead of tolerating her as long as they could and then getting rid of her.

Not everyone, of course, has the brains and character and grit to overcome his faults even when they are pointed out.

But some people have, and if there are any to whom you stand in the relation of employer, why not give them the benefit of the possibility that they are of that class, and be kind enough to find fault with them occasionally?

IDA CONQUEST. SCORES AS "ASTA" IN ISEN'S DRAMA "LITTLE EYOLF."

New York.—Ida Conquest, who plays "Asta" in Henrik Ibsen's drama, "Little Eyolf," in which Miss Nazimova is starring at her theatre in New York, secured over the star in this production. During the rehearsals of the play the star insisted that the big scene that "Asta" has in the third act should be played in a certain peculiar manner. Miss Conquest rebuffed her.

part as directed by Miss Nazimova, but on the opening night gave her own idea of the role, and as a result, secured the biggest hit in the play, much to the chagrin of Nazimova, who immediately on the day following, ordered the company to appear at rehearsals and change the business so that "Asta" would not be the most prominent part in the play henceforth.

The abandonment of desolation is the ancient and faded pillow. The bit of faded and soiled embroidery as represented by a pillow of last year's vintage seems to possess a charm which the housekeeper finds hard to overcome. The spell of the beautiful is on her, and she cannot bear to throw away the result of so many hours of toil.

Personally I think it a waste of labor to embroider elaborate pillows. They are "too fine and good" for ordinary use and suggest the question fine summer's study. Study that is done out of doors and is part of the natural world about us is not too hard for the hot days. Children will always be busy and a little direction will not burden them but will add zest to their labors. It is not the labor, however, that counts, but the interest in the beautiful world about us that is created that is worth while. Children that are taught to see "sermons in stones, books in running brooks and good in every thing," are never going to be the world weary old people that are the saddest aspect of our overstimulated civilization.

By MARY RUSSELL.

There are so many people who always stay at the edge of things.

Thrown out by the whirl of life they drift into the eddies and back waters and become anchored among the sedges of circumstance and there they hang—powerless, perhaps, but decaying away with half spent powers.

They grow inert and useless and at last, drop out of sight, buried at the bottom of the pool or overgrown with moss.

It is better to push rashly into the whirl pool of life—to be something in the world than to die without having lived.

Take the chance that comes to you and get into action. Don't think that action means noise and fret and hurry.

The great steamboat with its valuable cargo and work of human souls hardly disturbs the stillness of the waters, but the little wireless electric launch, with its one passenger, coughs and sneezes and heralds its approach for miles.

It disappears into the distance without creating a thought of more than passing interest. It is a thing with which to play.

But the stately ocean-going steamer with the outlook with a hill of fields and a sense of deeds accomplished.

Don't stay at the edge of things. Play your part in the great "scheme of life!"

The people of today have no place for the decaying remnants of the dead you meant to do. It has need of the deed you do.

It has need of your best efforts and your best thoughts.

Don't sit down and howl your fate if you miss some opportunity.

Never was there a greater failure than the belief taught that opportunity knocks but once at a man's door.

Opportunity knocks again and again. Open wide the portals.

Take the chance that comes to you—but if your eyes have been blinded and you have let the fickle goddess slip, keep alert and ready for she will return and you may yet clip her wings and hold her fast!

Don't look enviously upon your neighbor's success. He has had his failures. You will yet have your successes.

Do you today—to me tomorrow!

It is only a weak and trembling soul that succumbs at the first failure, or the second, or the third!

Never admit even to yourself that you have used up all your chances.

The great wheel revolves and you may yet find the opportunity to slip into the current and get out of the little still corner where you have been swept.

The thing to do is to keep hopeful! To be ready and to believe in yourself. It is the biggest game in all the universe—this that we call life!

Get into it! Fling yourself with all your heart—with all your brain—with all your soul into the middle of it, for it is better to go down, knowing you have honestly tried to win the things.

You are a part of the world's life and it is your business not to allow the world to treat you as a back-slap.

Lend a hand, but don't be a stepping stone!

GOOD POINTS OF RYE BREAD.

Rye bread is the staple food of some of the sturdiest peoples of Europe. It, like wheat, contains every element needed for body-building, including albumen, which is the distinctive element of meat. A case is recorded in the prison annals of Poland of a man's living for over fifty years on bread and water, probably rye. Half a century ago rye was more generally cultivated than wheat. The fine white bread made from bolted wheat is a modern product. The British Medical Association recently expressed regret at the decline in the use of the whole cereal products made from the home-grown grains. Some maintain that the bran of wheat is irritating to the mucus lining of the intestine, but this objection does not hold equally against rye, although it is even more laxative than entire wheat bread. So long as rye holds out, we can continue the meat strike.

DAINTY WHITE FROCK.

White albatross was used in the making of a dainty little frock, combined with white silk embroidered bands, as indicated in our cut. The little blouse whose joining to skirt is a square cut neck, below which is a shaped yoke of embroidered net headed with a band of embroidery matching that which runs from shoulder to hem, and that need for trimming on short sleeves.

This is also a good model for linen and other wash materials.

MODERN PICTURE HAT.

One of the prettiest as well as most stylish chicane worn at a recent fashionable wedding was of the type shown in this cut. The hat of very fine black chip had a wide brim, rolled upward on both sides. Gold lace was artistically draped about the crown, and three beautifully shaded coral plumes fell gracefully over the left side and back. The model is excellent for a dressy hat.

"Our little daughter, when three months old, began to break out on the head and we had the best doctors to treat her, but they did not do her any good. They said she had eczema. Her eyes became crusted from the disease and her scalp was a solid scab all over. The burning and itching was so severe that she could not rest, day or night. We had about given up all hope when we read an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. We at once got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and followed directions carefully. After the first dose of the Cuticura Resolvent, we used the Cuticura Soap freely and applied the Cuticura Ointment. Then she began to improve rapidly and in two weeks the scab came off her head and new hair began to grow. In a very short time she was well. Her eyes were perfectly straight when she recovered and have been so ever since. She is now sixteen years of age and is a picture of health. We know the Cuticura Remedies cured her and have used them in our family ever since."

"We used the Cuticura Remedies about five weeks, regularly, and then we could not tell where the disease had been. With any disease. She suffered with itching and itching and hard, scaly, crust-like scales all over her head and in places on her body. We used the Cuticura Remedies and found out that the Cuticura Remedies would do for her. J. Felt and Ella M. Felt, Mt. Vernon, Ky., Oct. 12, 1909."

Our Luxurious Shampoos Are Invigorating

Some women do their own shampooing. Few of them do it right. At best it tests their patience and takes a lot of their time. It isn't unusual to see a woman sitting in the sun waiting for her hair to dry. How needless. Why not come to our establishment and have your shampooing done by experts who make it their life work? They are sure to know shampooing from A to Z; if they did not, we wouldn't keep them. It would be superfluous to tell you the benefits to be had from a good shampoo. A perfectly clean scalp and the best hair cleaning you ever had, at a reasonable charge.

BUYING MOVEMENT
CONTINUES STEADY

Last Year's Crop Being Quietly Absorbed—Grain Leaf Market Discouraging To Holders.

The movement that is steadily absorbing last season's crop, says the Edgerton Reporter, is progressing rapidly and bids fair to continue until the country districts are well cleaned up. The following are some of the more recent sales showing the range of prices:

Chris Anderson, 18a at 8c.
Sara Erickson, 8a at 7c.
Julius Iverson, 10a at 6 1/2c.
And Lund, 8a at 7c.
Archie Lerner, 9a at 7 1/2c; 1a at 6 1/2c.
Ole Wisniewski, 8a at 8c.
S. O. Winger, 3a at 8c; S. A. Johnson, 8a at 7 1/2c; T. S. Thompson, 8a at 6c; Tony Gredeluck, 4a at 8 1/2c; Thom. T. Gore, 5a at 7 1/2c; N. J. Aberg, 10a at 7 1/2c; John L. Hanson, 2a at 7c; Gus Wensel, 8a at 7 1/2c; Wm. T. Post, 5a at 10c; 9c 8 1/2c; Asst; Arnold Slag, 4a at 7 1/2c.
Nothing has transpired in the grain market that furnishes much encouragement to holders of those goods. A sale of 231 cases of '09 under seal takes place in this market on the 15th that will attract some attention.

Warehouse handling is progressing slowly. Some firms have completed the season's packings, but the work will drag along well into the summer months.

A return of cold weather has brought three stifling frosts during the week which may have done more injury to plant beds not fully protected and is delaying all vegetation everywhere.

The shipments out of storage reach 1087 cases and 5 acres of bundles from this market to all points for the week. Since last reports to cars have been received for handling in this market.

Extensive Neglect.
Those growers who through neglect or other causes beyond their control were unable to take down their last season's crop from the curing sheds until late spring now find they are financial losers by neglecting earlier opportunities. The tobacco that hung in the sheds throughout the winter and spring months has been found to have lost much of its value, being badly broken and so dried out by continual freezing that most of the oil and elasticity in the leaf is gone and in fact its condition is unsatisfactory that packers contend it is hardly worth while to add the cost of labor in preparing it for the market. Those who probably more than 5000 cases of such tobacco left hanging in the sheds of this state through the winter and in some of the northern sections there is considerable still remaining in the sheds. This experience goes to prove that tobacco ought to be taken down from the curing sheds during the fall months if growers expect to secure full returns from the crop. It seems to be a well-established fact that cured leaf will deteriorate if left too long in the sheds before stripping; that cold, drying winds and continued freezing destroys the elasticity of the leaf and makes it unfit for blunder purposes. The experience will also serve as a lesson that growers will profit by in future years.

HOSE PROVED UP IN A SEVERE TRY-OUT

Leads Taken at Random From 1,200 Feet Recently Purchased Subjected to Heavy Hydraulic Pressure.

Three hundred feet of hose taken from the shipments shipped by the Hilsen Fire Hose Co., the H. E. Goodrich Co., the New York Belling & Packing Co., and the New Jersey Car Spring & Rubber Co., amounting in all to 1,200 feet, was given a try-out under high pressure with the new hose tester yesterday afternoon and Chief Klein, Mayor Curie and Aldermen Sheridan and Evans of the purchasing committee found it satisfactory in every respect. The new tester, by means of a pump worked by hand, increases the pressure to about 600 pounds. The pressure exerted by the fire engine rarely exceeds 220 pounds and the maximum from the hydrants is about 150 pounds per square inch. During the try-out yesterday the pressure from the tester, as shown by the gauge, was about 400 pounds per square inch on the 2 1/2-inch hose and 250 per square inch on the three inch hose. The three-inch hose, several hundred feet of which has been purchased, is a new design, two and a half inch having been the "regulation" gauge heretofore. It is claimed that the larger hose will carry twice as much water with about half the pressure on the hose walls.

C. W. REEDER'S FARM.
HOUSE DESTROYED

In Blaze of Mysterious Origin on Old Loren Finch Place in Town of La Prairie This Morning.

Fire, originating in some mysterious fashion in a tool house about 300 feet distant, and spreading rapidly to a large woodshed and thence to the homestead, totally destroyed the brick farm house on the old Loren Finch place in the town of La Prairie, which is owned by Charles W. Reeder of this city, about half past two o'clock this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, the tenants, were awakened in time to save most of their household goods excepting those in the kitchen. It would cost from $5,000 to $6,000 to replace the farm house and the loss on the wood shed which contained a large number of new cedar posts will be a heavy one. So far as can be learned there had been no smoking in the vicinity of the tool house during the preceding evening and in the light of what little is known about the mystery it is absolutely inexplicable. The farm is located about eight or nine miles southeast of Janesville and three miles south of the Racine road. It is just across the way from Harry Finch's farm.

ROAD REFUSES TO CARRY OUT ORDERS

Hills Central Has Failed to Comply With Order of R. R. Commission to Put On New Train.

Monroe, Wis., May 7.—The Hills Central has made no move as yet to make the evening connections at Dill, as ordered to do by the Wisconsin railroad commission. Rumors are afloat that if pressed, they will appeal to the interstate commission. They give as an excuse for not making the connection, two reasons: They contend that they made the connection at Dill and the Milwaukee road deliberately made their time fifty minutes later, and the Central is now asked to make their time thirty minutes later with an addition of thirty minutes when the train on the other road is late. Second, that the bulk of their trade on the Dodgeville line comes from Marshfield, McConnell and Winkler, and they object to having their train an hour later when they have a car of passengers for the above towns. The action of the Central road toward their orders is causing a great deal of discussion.

Final Dancing Party.
The Married Folks' Dancing club held their final party of the season at the armory, fifty couples sharing in the last banquet and dance. The hall had been especially decorated for the occasion and presented a gala appearance. Rugs and easy chairs were arranged and the hall and guests were comfortable and to make the affair one to be remembered by all who are connected with the club. A fine band was secured at 7 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. Julia Keesom. Forty couples have been enrolled for the club's season of 1910-1911.

To Sell Property.
Mrs. F. L. Chonoweth has arrived from Chicago to sell her property and Mrs. Stoddard Jess of Los Angeles, Cal., a sister of Mr. Chonoweth, in packing up the furniture at the old Chonoweth home in this city, which will be closed and sold. The property is wanted by a number of parties, who have been asked to submit sealed bids. It is a very desirable piece of property and finely located.

PYPER & KNOX GIVEN
PERMIT FOR AUCTION

Of Jewelry Stock, After Considerable Debate, at Special Meeting of Common Council.

At a special meeting of the common council which was held at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, a request from O. A. Pypor and R. H. Knox for a permit to auction their jewelry stock came up for consideration. There was considerable objection on the ground that auctions work to the detriment of other merchants engaged in the same line of business, but after some discussion the ordinance passed an order granting to the petitioners the privilege of auctioning the jewelry and fixtures now in the store they occupy, between the dates of May 11 and May 31, providing that they enter into an agreement with the city not

ACTIVE SEASON IS BEING PLANNED FOR

Games Committee Already Has Scores Posted for Revision—New Scoring Cards Are Out.

From present indications the coming season at the Blumfeldt Golf club promises to be a most active one. All the committees appointed, and the others, are doing everything in their power, not only to increase the membership, but also to have the grounds and club house in readiness for the formal opening on Decoration Day. The games committee has already posted the scores, from which the handicaps will be made, for the club contents so that all players may have an opportunity of improving their game and making new records before the start for the Wilson Lane cup which will be first played. They have also published new scoring cards, convenient in form and giving much advice to the players. These have been placed in the lockers ready for use.

The House committee is doing some strenuous house cleaning, repairing and general renovation. The interior of the club house is being redecorated, the wood work stained a darker and more appropriate shade, and the floor finished over. A new window has been cut on the northwest side of the building, between the kitchen doorway and the ladies' locker room, giving more light and better ventilation. New curtains and cozy corners will add to the pleasure and comfort of the members.

New doors have also been placed at the porch entrance and the porch will have new chairs, new settees and be made comfortable and cozy for those who go to enjoy simply the club-house privileges. The putting green and approach to the club house are also being placed in good repair and with the covered porch, built by last year's house committee, the changes will make the club house one of the most complete in the state.

Mrs. Puffall has been engaged as chef for the coming season and a new stove is being installed in her department and other arrangements are being made to handle with ease the large number of parties that have become a feature of the golf season. Mrs. Puffall will assume charge of the kitchen on Decoration Day which will be the formal opening although the house committee has under consideration plans for social gatherings before that date.

The regular Tuesday club days of the past seasons will be a feature of the present one with the club supper at six-thirty and the dance in the evening. The ladies' afternoon bridge games are to be held on Friday this year as in the past and there will be three series, the same as there will be for the dances on Tuesday.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, May 7, 1870.—Jottings.—The committee called by Rev. S. C. Tionzas, Presiding Elder of Janesville District, to investigate the case of Rev. E. W. Kirkham on the charge of immorality found as follows: Of the charge not guilty. The evidence was found to sustain the specification involving improper conduct was found not to be of an immoral character, and therefore found not to sustain the charge. After the finding of the committee, Rev. Kirkham came voluntarily forward and deposited his credentials with the Presiding Elder, until the next session of the Conference and volunteered to desist from all ministerial functions until that time. Janesville has one of the best brass bands of any inland town in the state. ASKS CLERKS' AID
IN SECURING MEN
TO WORK ON FARM

Commissioner of Labor Would Make County Clerks' Offices Free Employment Agencies.

County Clerk H. W. Len has received from the commissioner of labor and industrial statistics, a letter requesting his aid and co-operation in securing for the farmers the help needed to raise and market their crops. The letter follows:

"My Dear Sir: For the last three years the bureau of labor and industrial statistics has been endeavoring to solve in part the problem of farm help, and farm renting in this state. During the two years beginning at the time of the bank panic in the fall of 1907, this department placed 2,750 men, most of them from cities, on farms. But with the return of good times, the problem has grown more acute than ever before. The demand for farm labor is increasing while the supply is apparently diminishing.

"We believe, however, that there are thousands of young men and young women in Wisconsin who would like to secure employment on farms or in farm homes, if they knew where to find it within reasonable distance from their homes.

"We have reached the conclusion that the county clerk's office would make the most convenient and efficient free employment and free rental agency in each county. It will entail some extra work for the county clerks, but they would find sufficient reward we are sure, in the close acquaintance it would give them with the farmers of their counties, and in the consciousness of performing gratifying and important public service. What do you think of the plan?"

Commissioner Brock has sent letters similar to this to the clerks of all counties in the state, except where employment agencies are maintained by the state, and from the replies already received, every one of them will probably take up the work.

The success of the plan depends entirely on the attitude which the clerks take toward it, but as the farming communities would receive great benefit from it, it is thought that the clerks will respond to the request willingly.

GREAT LAND SALE

West Tract of Rich Land in the Round Lake Country, Wisconsin, Opened to Settlement by the American Immigration Co. of Chicago Falls, Wis.

SALE ADJUSTED WHENEVER INTERESTED

The landmen have at last released for settlement their vast section of rich Wisconsin land, a total of over 50,000 acres. The very best of this land, comprising 15,000 acres, is the famous Round Lake Country, in Sawyer County, Wis., is now being cut into farms and sold at from $5.00 to $20.00 per acre on ten years' time.

These lands are in the very heart of the state's richest section. Clear grass in such abundance that this region is known as the great country for stock raising. The land is capable of producing big crops of grain, fruit and vegetables. The company's great development plans are rapidly bearing fruit and now towns are being laid out, new railroads are coming, and settlers are ready to build homes and getting the land under cultivation.
